REASONS FOR ALLOWANCE

1. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:
2. Claim 1 claims measurement of signal transmission time through a network link comprising measuring a minimum delay time between transmission of a test signal and transmission of an echo signal that causes an echo canceller bounding the link to cancel the echo signal and using that measured minimum delay to calculate the transmission time through the link. US Patent 5,521,907 to Ennis, Jr. et al., discloses a method of measuring travel time in communication network based on detecting a packet at two points in a data network and determining the time delay between the detections (Fig. 2; column 3, lines 5-19). US Patents 6,058,102 to Drysdale et al. and US Patent 6,831,890 to Goldsack et al. disclose similar methods. US Patent 5,450,394 to Gruber et al. discloses monitoring delay between network nodes using time stamped test cells and reporting test cells (Fig. 1; column 1, lines 4-40). US Patent 6,446,121 to Shah et al. discloses a similar method. US Patent 6,400,802 to Legare discloses testing of a network connection on which echo cancellers are active (Fig. 1, reference 118, 120; column 2, lines 1-3), but does not utilize the echo cancellers to calculate measurements. As such, the prior art does not disclose or suggest measurement of signal transmission time through a network link comprising measuring a minimum delay time between transmission of a test signal and transmission of an echo signal that causes an echo canceller bounding the link to cancel the echo signal and using that measured minimum delay to calculate the transmission time through the link, as claimed.
3. Claims 13 and 23 are essentially similar to Claim 1 and are allowable for the same reasons.

4. The remaining claims are allowable due to dependence from their respective base claims.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
